

Sign up Now!
Free Classes in Scientific Writing and Communication
For International Students & Scientists

Sponsored by
The Mag Lab Center for Integrating Research & Learning

Location: Mag Lab, B333: Educational Resource Lab (3rd floor)

Registration: <http://www.magnet.fsu.edu/education/gradstudents/>

Instructor: Katharine Moulton: kmoulton@admin.fsu.edu

FALL 2008 WORKSHOPS

Dos and Don'ts of Email Correspondence (September 10, 3:00 – 4:30 pm.)

This workshop covers appropriate language and tone for e-mailing professors, colleagues and others. Participants will practice writing e-mails on a variety of topics.

Verbs in Scientific Writing (October 1, 3:00 – 4:30 pm)

This workshop teaches how to use verbs correctly in the different parts of an article or thesis, plus provides tips on using the passive voice.

Grant Writing Tips (October 29, 3:00 – 4:30 pm)

This workshop covers standard proposal formats (e.g. NSF) and effective writing strategies for each part of the proposal.

The Curriculum Vitae (November 19, 2008, 3:00 – 4:30 pm)

This workshop covers the content and format for CVs and resumes in scientific fields. Please bring a copy of your latest CV to work on.